

TAME YOUR TENSIONS WITH A SUPER-SMART SAUNA.

WHAT: mPulse Full Spectrum Infrared Home Sauna
WHY IT'S COOL: It's the first customizable full-spectrum infrared sauna (i.e., no rocks and steam) with personalized wireless biofeedback tracking. Target your cell health, complexion, relaxation, weight loss, pain relief, and/or heart health. This state-of-the-art wellness tool features an LCD touch-screen interface, CD/DVD player, Blaupunkt speakers, antibacterial bamboo heated backrests, and ergonomic "floating" benches. Best of all, magnets in the structure — made of eco-friendly materials — make it easy to (dis)assemble.

THE PRICE: $3,999 to $8,789

GIVE YOUR MASSEUSE A BREAK.

WHAT: Inada Sogno DreamWave
WHY IT'S COOL: It comprehensively cradles you with more than 1,200 square inches of comforting coverage. Personal infrared sizing, deep therapeutic pressure through the I.T. band, Inada's hip-undulating Dream-Wave technology, and a full-body stretch set this fine piece of furniture a clear head and melted shoulders above the rest.

THE PRICE: Starts at $7,799

WHERE TO GET IT: Relax the Back online (relaxtheback.com) or stores

BRING THE GAME OUTSIDE.

WHAT: C Seed 201 Unfolding Outdoor LED TV

WHY IT'S COOL: In under a minute, this amazing outdoor television rises as a single column from its water-resistant underground shaft to a peak of 15 feet, then unfurls seven large LED panels until flat and seamless. The resulting ultrawide high-resolution Retina display produces 10 times the brightness of a standard TV set. The desired height and optimal viewing angle are adjustable via a fingerprint-recognizing remote. And it's all linked to a built-in, multisource media server and lossless digital audio system.

THE PRICE: Undisclosed, but similar to that of a luxury sports car
