

THE GADGET GUIDE

Back to the Original ▶

Victorinox Swiss Army has revisited their very first watch, the Original, and presented two new models with a modern twist and a new modular leather strap. The first is the Original, animated by a Ronda quartz movement, with three hands and a date window. The other is the Original Chronograph, which features three central hands, a date window at 4 'o' clock, three sub-dials, and an ETA quartz chronograph movement.

As a nod to the year the watch was launched, only 1989 pieces have been made of the Original Chronograph. Military inspired, besides its monochrome tone, the Chronograph also features a removable leather hood that is reminiscent of early 20th century army wrist watches, which were protected by a grille or a lid. These contemporary watches are apt for active urbanites.

Play on...

Playbar from Sonos achieves HiFi sound with one easy-to-use player that fits perfectly beneath a flat-screen TV. Under the high-performance speaker fabric are nine amplified speakers, which include six mid-woofers that deliver deep low-frequency sounds, and three tweeters for clear high-frequency detail. It connects to the TV with an optical cable and can be used to operate cable, Blu-ray and gaming consoles.

▲ The new-age bugle

Made in Italy by design company En & I, this horn-shaped mega amplifier is made from fine ceramic, and works on the principle of a bugle. Created for use with the iPhone and iPod, this natural amplifier doesn't use any electricity. It stands on a thin wooden frame and the vibrations of the sound are maximised as they float through the horn. It is priced at £400 for its black and white colour options, and at £650 for platinum and copper finishing.

▲ Future of outdoor entertainment

The C SEED 201 requires 15 seconds to rise from its home beneath the ground and reach a height of 15 feet. Seven panels silently unfold and interlock to form a seamless LED TV screen in your backyard, which can then be used for watching Blu-ray movies, HDTV or for playing golf with a gaming console. The winner of prestigious red dot award, this waterproof TV by C SEED Entertainment Systems, Porsche Design Studio and Lighthouse Technologies, has a high-fidelity 3-way outdoor audio system with 15 speakers. It also has biometric fingerprint sensors, a 270-degree rotatable screen and an adjustable height of up to 15 feet. Equipped with true LED TV technology with maximum 5,000 nits brightness, it is fully daylight-compatible and has a high-resolution retina LED display with a 16:9 aspect ratio. Whether people buy it for their backyards or experience it in resorts, this giant television is set to herald a new era in outdoor entertainment.
